Poison grain, adjustable in measured amounts, is deposited at regularly spaced intervals 6" to 8" below ground surface. Best application is when ground is moist. Dry, hard ground or extremely wet soil should be avoided. Adjust the top link so that the plow point is slightly downward.

It is most effective to make your application at right angles to the gopher run and with passes 20 to 25 feet apart.

CAUTION should be exercised in handling and storage of poison grain. Any poison grain left exposed on soil surfaces could be consumed by birds or animals. When storing machine, empty hopper and clean machine thoroughly. Poison grain is dangerous to humans and animals. Go slow, not over 5 miles per hour and do a good job.
